

WE NOMINATE

William Wirt Lockwood, a teacher-scholar of extraordinary ability and widely recognized as one of the "best-informed Americans on the Far East," whose Princeton career is inextricably bound up in the post-war development of the University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. With the 22-year old "School." belatedly named in honrr of the Nation's 28th Chief Executive, now settling into its new quarters on the corner of Washington Road and Prospect Avenue, Lockwood is entering upon his seventh year as Assistant Director of a remarkable venture in the field of education.

A native of Shanghai, China, where he was born off years ago during his father's tenure as General Secretary of the Shanghai Y.M.C.A., Lockwood has specialized for some two decades in bettering the West's understanding of the turbulent continent of Asia. Long before Americans learned to look beyond Pearl Harbor, Lockwood, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of DePauw University and a "Harvard Doctor," was helping carry forward the research program of the American Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations, which has recently been subjected to the indiscriminate fire of the U. S. Senate's "McCarran Committee."

In the World War II period, up until the time he returned to academic life in 1946, Lockwood, a Bowdoin College faculty member for six years, was advanced from one key governmental post in the next. He was first asked to serve as an economic consultant to the Office of Export Control and later directed the preparation of a series of China Relief Studies for the Department of State. In 1943 he moved to the Office of Strategic Services, holding forth as an assistant chief of the Far Eastern Division in its Research and Analysis Branch, but actually readying himself for duty in the Pacific Theater.

Lockwood in 1944 and 1945 was assigned to the headquarters of General Chennault's 14th Air Force and served with distinction as "research and analysis chiet" of that command's O.S.S. unit. Following V-J Day, and prior to accepting the Princeton call to assist with a plan of study dedicated to encouraging young men to participate in public life, he was associated with the State Department's Division of Japanese and Korean Economic Affairs, an experience that gave him added insight into the political and social upheavals taking place in the far reaches of the East.

For insisting that free and dispassionate study will help this country avoid the grievous errors of the past; for urging young men to reach their own conclusions and then to report them openly and honestly; for strengthening the Wilsonian ideal of "Princeton in the Nation's Service;" he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for Republicans and Rockets. The platforms of both political parties have generally been constructed along the traditional lines of promising all things to all men, an inevitable policy that is less likely to lose votes than it is to win them. One blast from the Republican trumpet caught our ear, however, The party now out of power has high hopes of speeding up mail delivery.

This ohviously wound be a fine thing, with the frequently harassed postal employees the first to agree that an improved system for handling and delivering the mail would be welcome. The Republicans are, nonetheless, confronted with the fact that whereas they have labelled themselves the economy party, ready to slash government expenditures right and left, the Democrats report they have already saved countless dollars with their recent overhaul of postal operations.

The solution to the Republicans, dilemma may well have appeared in print this week. In Germany, the Society for Rocket Research is ready to exhibit the model of a postal rocket which it claims will shoot mail from Europe to America in 60 minutes. On such a basis, comparable time would be Miami to New York in 30 minutes and Chicago to New York in 20. No doubt further reductions, for distances of merely a few hundred miles, would require one to blot the letter before reading it.

Two Die in Tragedy. The most tragic plane crash in this area within memory occurred Sunday afternoon at 4:15 in the near-by community of Dutch Neck. The pilot, Norman H. Mather, 36, and Richard A. Walton, 18-year old member of the Class of 1952 at Princeton High School, were instantly killed when the small Piper Cub in which they were flying nosedived into a potato field from an altitude of 100 feet.

The two had gone aloft to dust the land near their homes with a DDT solution to rid the area of flies. No specific cause for the crash has been given, the plane losing altitude sharply with its motor still running and burying its nose in the earth. The two victims of the accident died of fractured skulls.

Numerous friends and relatives of the men saw the crash as they going about their various activities on the quiet Sunday afternoon. The plane had been the property of the late Alfred Perrine of the Princeton-Hightstown Road, for many years a friend of Mr.

Mather's. The latter had been flying since 1946.

Mr. Mather was the son-in-law of Walter F. Conover of the Nassau Motor Company. Mr. Walton, who was planning to enter Rutgers University next month, was a member of the football and basehall teams at the high school here.

Rent Control an Issue, Princetonians who rent their homes are looking forward with much interest to learn what the mayor and council propose to do about extending rent controls in this community. The matter is to receive consideration at the governing body's August meeting next Thursday, August 14.

Fêderal legislation requires any municipality wishing controls extended for a six-month period after September 30 to pass a resolution to that effect. It was apparent this Continued on Page 3

Weekend Concerts. Concerts open to the public without charge will be given Friday and Saturday nights by those who have been enrolled in the summer session of Westminster Choir College. Each will start at 7;30 at Albemarle, the former Lamhert estate, and will last just under an hour.

The first will be presented by the Vocal Camp, which consists of some 260 high school students who have been studying at Westminster during the past month. They will sing .under the direction of Harold Hedg-

Members of the Professional School (church, college and school Schoral directors)) will be heard Saturday evening, with Dr. John F. Williamson, Westminster presi-dent, directing. Weather permitting, the concerts will be held outside on the spucious lowns where the college has blue-printed plans for a greatly-expanded campus and several new buildings.

Attendance at this summer's session has set a record, with every section of the nation represented and students curolled from 35 states, the District of Columbia and two foreign countries. In view of the popularity of the courses, it is possible that two separate sessions will be scheduled next year.

With an eye to the national crosssection represented by those enrolled this summer, publicity director Ted Cronk conducted a presidential straw vote among the 368 persons now on the Westminster campus. The result was overwhelmingly in Yavor of General Eisenhower, who policil 87 per cent to 13 per cent for Governor Stevenson.

Residents of the 35 states gave the Republican candidate 30 of them, Arkansas split its ticket, with Colorado, Mississippi, South Carol-ina and South Dakuta going to Governor Stevenson, In several eastern and mid-western- states (New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana) from which upwards of 20 votes were cast, the balloting ranged from 95 to 100 per cent for Eisenhower.

Outing Dates. One of Princeton's tavorite outing spots, the Quaker Road grove where the Squatters' Club is located, will be the scene of three annual programs of entertainment and refreshment during the coming weeks. Mercer Engine Company No. 3 Will stage the traditional target shoot there Saturday afternoon, Members will compete for prizes gonated by merchants in town, while a new Plymouth sedan will also be awarded during the proceedings. Prederick K. Bohn is the outing chairman.

Heartbreak House will open Monday for a week. This George Bernard Shaw comedy, imbued with a full share of his wit, irony and tongue-in-cheek philosophy, has been well received elsewhere on the strawhat circuit this summer and is expected to be one of the most popular presentations at New Beatrice Straight, Philip Bourneuf, Frances Reid and Peter Cookson are the principals in the cast. Matinees are Wednesday and Saturday.

MUSIC CIRCUS

The Three Musketeers, from the pen of Rudolf Friml, will run through Sunday at the Music Circus in Lambertville. Replacing it on Tuesday, for a two-week performance, will be "Kiss Me Kate," the Cole Porter musical based on Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" which ran on Broadway for marky three years Kyle MacDonnearly three years. Kyle MacDonnell, Ted Scott and Joan Kibrig head the cast.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Jumping Jacks (Thurs.-Sat.) strictly for Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis fans, is made up almost entirely of the latter's antics while training as a paratrooper in the Army. All of the humor as Mr. Lewis becomes ensuared in the rugged pitfalls of war maneuvers is of the slapstick variety. A few musical interludes are injected but there is little or no plot. (The picture is given a rating of "good" by the Children's Movie Committee of the Council of Community Services.)

High Noon (Sun.-Tues.), slipping unobstrusively into town at the beginning of the week, is already being hailed as one of the year's top films and one uf the best westerns of the past five. As might be expected, Gary Cooper has the lead, with acting, direction and the mood of steadily mounting suspense all far above average.

The story is that of a sheriff of a small western town who learns (only a few minutes after his marriage) that a killer has been pardoned and is on his way back from jail with three accomplices to even the score. It is a story of courage against cowardice, of right against -Continued on Page 10

Positions Open, When a football team that has won its last 22 games in a row can present a lineup of 11 lettermen ready to start as its of-fensive platoon, it might be assumed the future is hright and the problems already settled. It is true, as a matter of fact, that with six regulars from left tackle to right end returning and Captain Frank McPhen available to fill the one gap at left end, an extremely able line is at hand.

The difficulty exists in the backfield, with the problem compounded by cancellation of spring practice, the six-week period when the sophomores normally receive their first intensive drill on offensive football at the varsity level. An attack is always more difficult to generate than a defense is to build, and this year Charlie Caldwell must replace his entire starting quartet of ball carriers in the brief period from September 4 to 27.

While other conditions also had an effect on what transpired, it is worth remembering that when Caldwell was last without an experlenced quarterback (the year George Chandler was a sopbomore), Princeton lost its first three games in a row. It wasn't George's faultit's just that you don't put a beautifully-geared complex attack in smooth running order in a few short weeks.

The tollowing year, when Dick Kazmaier was learning the ropes as tailback, the Tigers dropped three of their first five. This year, Caldwell has hit the daily double: tested experience is available at neither quarterback nor tailback.

One position in the starting backfield can be filled without loss in strength from the 1951 season, although it should be mentioned in passing that the shift may weaken the defensive platoon, Linebacker Homer Smith, a plunging fullback by nature, is slated to take over the graduated Russ McNeil's duties in that spot.

One other job in the backfield is not a major question mark. Three lettermen, all with some experience, all faster than the average college back, will battle for the wingback berth. Dick Yaffa currently has the call, followed by Earl Byrne, but there is reason to believe that Bob Unger may eventually pass them both in the race for the starting assignment, Yaffa, at 174 pounds, is the fast-est the's a leading middle-distance runner on the track team), with Byrne 15 pounds lighter—a good substitute. But Unger is by no means slow, has 15 pounds on Yaffa and 30 on Byrne, which helps to give him authority as a blocker. To top it off, he can pass, an added threat that might well have ralsed George Sella to All-American status if that fine athlete's hands had been built for aerial assignments. Unger can from the wingback slot for a good part of the 1950 season before enlisting in the Navy. He was given a medical discharge last summer and if he fives up to his potential this season, the attack will be the better for it.

Ralph "Bo" Willis, who sat out his sophomore year while recovering from a serious leg infection, is currently the leading candidate to replace George Stevens at quarter-back. Willis can pass, kick and block; the question mark is appended to his ability as a field general.

NEWS OF THE THEATRES

-Continued from Page 6 wrong, that has been told with eminently satisfactory realism and a fine insight into human nature.

The Story of Will Rogers (Wed .-Sat.) is noteworthy primarily because it presents a topflight performance by Will, Jr. in the role of his father. The cowpuncher who became an actor, humorist, philosopher and syndicated columnist makes a fine character portrayal but his life was sufficiently devoid of drama (save for his death in an Alaskan plane crash) so that the film has no particular pace, Added color is lent by the staging of scenes from the Ziegfeld Follies in which the elder Mr. Rogers was featured.

THE GARDEN

Carson City (Fri.-Sat.) features the veteran Randolph Scott as a construction engineer whose services are enlisted by mine owners in Nevada to huild a railroad for them when bandits are steadily successful in taking gold off their stagecoaches. Lucille Norman is the lovely heroine, Raymond Massey the black villain (who robs his victims then dines them on chicken and champagne.) Satisfactory adventure fare.

Scarlet Angel (Mon.-Tues.) casts lush Yvonne De Carlo in a lavishlyset but strictly routine story about a New Orleans dance hall girl with delusions of grandeur but none about morals. Financing her way into San Francisco society with a wad of stolen greenbacks, she eventually finds her original environment a strong attraction and reverts to type amidst a slam-hang barroom brawl. Rock Hudson plays opposite her, Sally and Saint Anne (Wed,-Thurs.) is a family-type comedy, recording the consistent and generally good-humored feuding between a couple of Irish families. Romance and pathos are blended with the humor. Ann Blyth and Edmund Gwenn head the east.

Mercer Street. Tom worked out as a pitcher briefly before game-time, was introduced to Clyde King, Dodger hurler, and then sat in a special reserved seat directly behind the home team dugout. Charlie Dressen's forces lost to the Cardinals, 4-3, but Tom brought home as souvenirs a Gil Hodges bat, Dodger cap and Dodger Yearbook.

Phantoms in Front. National Guard activities virtually halted action in the American Softball League this week, what with many players involved in a couple of weeks of maneuvers at Camp Drum, N. Y. When games resume next week, they will be make-up contests that were rained out earlier in the year.

The standings underwent a major reshuffling last week, as the Phantoms won three in a row to take over top spot for the first time since the season opened. The Cenerinos, pace-setters for more than a month, lost their only encounter to Oldis Movers and fell to second, a half-game behind the Phantoms.

The latter outfit topped University Laundry and Cleaners, 5-2; the Nassau Johnnies, 6-2 and then 7-3. In the other contest played, Oldis Movers picked up a second victory by trouncing University Laundry, 29-8.

The standings currently show the Phantoms in front with 13-7, followed by the Cenerinos, 13-8; Oldis Movers, 11-9; Sportsmen's Club, 9-8; Nassau Johnnies, 10-11; and University Laundry, 3-16.

Few make-up games remain in the National League, which the Nassau Social Club dominates, followed by RCA, ETS I, Heyden and ETS 2. These five teams have a shot at the playoffs, which will begin shortly for all three leagues.

The first-place outfit will meet the team that finishes fourth, with the second and third-place entries also squaring away. These elimina-tion rounds will be on a best of three basis, with the winners then going three out of five for the championship, Kings Inn, still unbeaten in the Girls League, won three last week to raise its mark to 12-0, ETS, the Gulf Station and Peresett Appliance are most likely to reach the playoffs, although the other two entries, Coans and Veterans Taxi, have a chance for a fourth-place tie. Final games in this circuit are listed for next Thursday.

Gurley Nears Sweep, Having won the men's singles and shared in the doubles, John Gurley was within a step of his third tennis title Wednesday when the and his wife reached the final round of the mixed doubles. They topped Mr. and Mrs. Alan Tredennick, 6-0,

Scheduled to face them were the defending champions, Miss Lydie McKinney and Donald Montgomery. They triumphed in two close sets over Mrs. Robert Sullivan and Caryl Bigelow by scores of 6-4,

INTERESTING POSITIONS OPEN

If you are going to attend an out-of-town college this fall that is 100 miles or more from Princeton, you can have a very interesting experience interviewing for us on the 1952 Presidential Election and at the same time earn some money.

If you can work as an interviewer for at least 20 hours between the time school starts and October 31, 1952, we will train you here in Princeton so that you can work for us when you get to college.

You will be paid for the training period, which can be done on Saturdays and will take about 16 hours—two-8 hour days—and you will also be paid for the interviewing while at school, plus a chance to participate in a liberal profit-sharing plan. There is also a chance for permanent partitime work all through the year.

All you have to do is write Box 612 and give us your name, present address, telephone number and name of college you are planning to attend this fall. We'll do the rest.

We can also use a few more people here in Princeton who have one or more full days a week for interviewing with our traveling crews all through New Jersey and metropolitan New York and Philadelphia areas.
